EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
At the end of this activity, participants should be able to:
- Identify and select proper equipment for difficult airway management and utilize an approach that is safest and most effective for definitive airway management. Incorporate extraglottic devices for oxygenation of patients. Perform a surgical airway in a can’t oxygenate, can’t ventilate, can’t intubate situation.
- Apply recommended ultrasound techniques at the bedside to identify reversible etiologies of pain, hemodynamic instability, and shock. Interpret point of care US images and integrate findings into medical decision making.
- Understanding emerging guidelines and novel testing strategies to differentiate children with serious bacterial illness from children with benign viral syndromes.

LECTURES
The course lectures will be made available online to all conference attendees. There will be no printed syllabus for this activity.
